

NEW! Polymer Purses workshop 2017 with Carol Blackburn

This July, Carol will be teaching her new Perfume Purses workshop for the first time in the UK, in partnership with the London Polymer Clay Group.

During this two day class you will create a handy perfume holder with its own atomizer – designed as a necklace for your favourite scent, or if preferred, it can just be a useful, pretty container.

In class you will make several different patterned veneers and blends and learn how to assemble the purse so it can be worn as jewellery or used as an ornamental container.

It is a workshop that leaves plenty of freedom for you to express your creative design skills with the patterns chosen for the decoration.

Price	£180, Early Bird price £170
Date:	Saturday & Sunday 15-16 July, 2017
Time/s	10am-5pm both days
Venue	Selsdon Centre, J Sainsburys Complex, Croydon, CR2 8LA
Skill level	Intermediate - a working knowledge of polymer and of making a Skinner Blend is required
You need to bring:	Clay, normal polymer clay tools, pasta machine, work surface, blade, roller – full list on the LPCG website (address below). A packed lunch, or purchase a snack from J Sainsburys
We will provide:	Course fee includes a set of specialist tools and findings required for the projects – more info on the website. Tea and coffee

Full info and booking at www.lpcg.co.uk/workshops