

Patterns in Polymer workshop - Carol Blackburn

Large Hollow Round and Tetrahedron Shaped Beads

In this workshop I show how everyone can make intricately patterned veneers that look complicated but are easy to achieve.

From a single cane I'll show how to create several strikingly different patterns and demonstrate how the multicoloured veneers can be transformed from flat sheets of polymer into hollow beads of many shapes and sizes.

Large round beads and unusual tetrahedron beads make eye catching necklaces which each student will have the opportunity to create and take home.

I will also discuss how the veneers can be used for other projects such as bangles and pendants.
